Youth centre fit for a future king

BY NINA WARHURST

YOU might expect a future King to have his dinner served to him.

But the Prince of Wales was asked to help cook a stir-fry when he visited St Paul's Way School on Wednesday, May 13 to open the Prince's Trust Morgan Stanley Centre.

He was meeting young people at the centre in Poplar, which will work to improve youngsters' life and business skills, help reduce youth unemployment and encourage them to take up job opportunities in Canary Wharf and Stratford.

His Royal Highness was joined by TV presenters Ant and Dec, who are following him for a special documentary which will look back on the trust's 40-year history.

The Prince heard from 25-year-old Tanguy Viaud, who was introduced to the Prince's Trust while in prison. He joined the trust's Get Started with Fashion course, which led to a traineeship on Saville Row.

"Growing up in east London, I knew too many young people like me who felt hopeless about the future, struggling with difficult situations and not knowing where to turn for help," Tanguy said.

"The new centre is amazing – it gives young people a place to go and people they can rely on for support. I think it's going to make a massive difference to people growing up here."

Prince opens new life skills centre

St Paul's Way School executive head teacher Grahame Price was on hand to welcome the visitors.

"The new centre is an excellent addition to the range of opportunities available to the young people of Poplar and across the borough," Mr Price told East End Life.

"The Prince's Trust has an excellent reputation for supporting young people to achieve their ambitions, often working with youngsters that have struggled to find the right path, as well as the next generation of entrepreneurs."

The school has been working with the trust for more than five years, with many youngsters benefitting from its Fairbridge programme.

On his arrival, Prince Charles shook hands and chatted with a number of year 7 students.

"I can't believe that I have just shaken the hand of the future king!" said pupil Raihan Ul-Karim.

The prince chatted to school police cadet Mohammed Abdus

Samad, who told His Royal Highness that he wanted to go on to work in the force.

The trio of special guests also enjoyed a superhero themed game, which helps participants develop their confidence and team building skills.

More than one in five young people in Tower Hamlets is unemployed and, across east London, over 21,000 young people are struggling to find work.

Dermot Finch, director for the Prince's Trust in London and the South of England, said: "East London has a bright future and lots of talented young people, but thousands of young people in Tower Hamlets and neighbouring boroughs are still unemployed."

The Prince's Trust will run a variety of free courses at the centre, designed to help young people get into work or training, or set up their own business.

It is hoped at least 550 young people will use the site over the next year.

The centre is the result of a two-year charity partnership between the trust and Morgan Stanley, during which time the bank's employees helped raise over £1.5 million to fund it.

Ant and Dec's documentary will be aired on ITV next year.

Candidates announced for mayor and Stepney Green ward elections

BY SUSAN MULLIGAN

CANDIDATES have been announced for the Tower Hamlets mayor and Stepney Green ward elections.

On June 11, voters have the chance to elect the person they want to be the next mayor of Tower Hamlets and a councillor for Stepney Green.

The person elected to be mayor will lead the local authority, make executive decisions about a wide range of council services and represent the interests of the borough and its residents until 2018.

Who can vote?

If you registered to vote in the May 2015 Parliamentary General Election, you are already registered to vote on June 11. If you are not currently registered, you must do so by May 26 in order to vote in the mayoral or Stepney Green ward elections. Contact the election team if you are uncertain about being registered. Call 7364 0872 or email vote@towerhamlets.gov.uk

All registered British, Commonwealth, Republic of Ireland and European Union citizens will be entitled to vote.

You must be aged 18 years on or before June 11, 2015.

About the mayoral election

EACH voter in the mayoral election may cast a first choice vote for one candidate and a second choice for a different candidate.

The mayoral count will take place on Thursday, June 11 following the close of poll at 10pm.

If one candidate gets more than 50 per cent of first-choice votes, he or she will be elected as mayor of Tower Hamlets.

If no candidate gets more than half the first choice votes,

Polling will be on June 11

the two with the most first-choice votes remain in the contest and all the other candidates drop out.

Then, second choice votes on the ballot papers of the candidates who dropped out of the contest are counted. Where there are votes for the two candidates remaining in the contest, they are added to the first-choice votes these candidates already have.

Of the two candidates, the one with the most first-choice and second-choice votes combined will be declared the next mayor of Tower Hamlets.

Soon after the official declaration by the Returning Officer, the result will be published on the council's website and displayed on the notice board at the Town Hall in Mulberry Place.

Don't give away your vote!

IT is important that you do not let anyone else take your vote or pressurise you to vote in a particular way.

If you vote at the polling station, you must take your ballot paper from the clerk and go into a polling booth to cast your vote in secret. Do not let anyone else touch your ballot paper and no other adult may go into the polling booth with you.

If you are a postal voter, make sure you complete the postal voting pack and ballot paper yourself, place the documents

There are ten candidates for mayor of Tower Hamlets:

Elaine BAGSHAW (Liberal Democrats)
John BIGGS (Labour Party)
Andy ERLAM (Red Flag – Anti-Corruption)
John FOSTER (Green Party)
Peter GOLDS (The Conservative Party Candidate)
Vanessa Helen HUDSON (Animal Welfare Party)
Hafiz Abdul KADIR (Independent)
Rabina KHAN (Independent)
Nicholas MCQUEEN (UKIP)
Md Motiur RAHMAN NANU (Independent)

There are seven candidates standing for election as councillor for the Stepney Green ward:

Sabina AKHTAR (Labour Party)
Safiul AZAM (The Conservative Party Candidate)
Kirsty CHESTNUTT (Green Party)
Abu Talha CHOWDHURY (Independent)
Will DYER (Liberal Democrats)
Jessie MACNEIL-BROWN (Something New)
Paul SHEA (UKIP)

in the envelope provided and put it in the post. You must not give the ballot paper or postal voting pack to anyone else to complete on your behalf.

Make sure you sign all postal vote documentation with your usual signature – it does not have to be in English but make sure you use the same signature on the postal vote application and the statement that you return with the ballot paper to ensure your vote is counted.

Anyone who takes another person's ballot paper may be committing an offence.

Evensong at St John

THE choir of St Paul's Cathedral will be singing Evensong for Whitsunday at the church of St John on Bethnal Green, on Sunday, May 24.

The choir is taking part in a record eight-year tour visiting 24 deaneries that will cover the entire diocese.

Members of each parish are encouraged to attend their special Evensong and share in the cathedral choral tradition.

Father Alan Green, rector of St John's and chair of Tower Hamlets' Inter-Faith Forum, said: "St John's has developed as a home for a very wide range of artists producing music, film, exhibitions and installations and it is fitting that our own superb cathedral choir should feature among them."

Willem's dynamic talent wins Nunnery solo show

BY MELANIE YEA

WILLEM Weismann from Tower Hamlets has been announced as the winner of the second East London Painting Prize.

He received a cheque for £10,000 and will stage a solo exhibition at the Nunnery Gallery in Bow in the autumn.

The prize celebrates the talent and diversity of artists living and working in east London. It was created by Foundation for FutureLondon and Bow Arts Trust, with supports from the Goldhill Family and the Zabudowicz Collection.

Mr Weismann, 38, was selected from a shortlist of 23 artists who live or work in east London. His work explores the human condition, people and their relation to their possessions and environments. His winning painting is called Library Guide.

"The work I selected is about the relation between books and painting. Both are a communication of information, and both are physical objects which are pushed to the sideline in an increasingly digital age, where everything is becoming virtual and weightless," he said.

On winning the prize, he added: "Winning this will allow me to focus on my practice and will give me the freedom to develop and push my art."

Panellist Oliver Basciano said: "Choosing Willem was gut instinct. I love the way his paint moves and his show proposal was innovative."

Willem Weismann and his winning painting, Library Guide

Rosamond Murdoch, director of the Nunnery Gallery, Bow Arts, said: "Willem is a dynamic talent, his ideas clearly finding a voice through his paintbrush. I am very excited to work with him to realise his work for the solo show at the Nunnery Gallery in October."

The East London Painting Prize was launched in May 2014 to honour the life and work of painter and philanthropist Jack Goldhill.

STAFF and students from George Green's School have created a short documentary exploring the identity of women living on the Isle of Dogs. Island Girls investigates the links between the Island and the generations of women who've grown up there and how their surroundings enabled them to become and resilient. By contrast, the film also explores the experiences of current generations of young Island girls and how they feel about their home.

A Big Lottery exhibition of photographs by George Green's students has also been curated for the project.

News in brief It's a dog's life

DOG owners in Tower Hamlets can get their pets microchipped for free, and receive vouchers towards the cost of neutering, at a series of events being hosted by the council.

The borough is teaming up with the Dogs Trust to hold three community roadshows on:

■ Tuesday, May 19 at Tarling Street Pocket Park, E1 from 11am-4pm;

■ Friday, June 12 at Rhoda Street Open Space, E2, time tbc;

■ Friday, July 24 at East India Dock, E14, time tbc.

Owners can also pick up free poop bags to encourage them to clean up after their pets.

Dog owners will be given free health check vouchers that include vaccinations against diseases as well as flea and worm treatment.

Organisers will try to encourage owners to swap their choke chains and leads for soft but strong collars and be offered general advice on dog ownership.

There will also be on-the-spot fun training for your pooch.

Taster sessions

EAST London Community Well-being is offering a free mindfulness taster session on Saturday, May 30.

Council's £24.8m new home bonus

BY SAM GOUGH

THE council has secured £24.8 million from the government's New Homes Bonus scheme.

Tower Hamlets has received more than any other local authority in the country.

The funding, for the financial year 2015-16, was recognition of the council's programme of building and developing housing in the borough.

Between 2011 and 2015, Tower Hamlets increased its housing stock by 14,547 and brought 769 empty homes back into use.

Aman Dalvi, corporate director of development and renewal at the council, said: "Once again the government has recognised the hard work that we do, day in day out, to build affordable housing for the people in this borough."

"It's all down to our commitment to making sure that Tower Hamlets becomes a great place to live for everyone."

Since the inception of the scheme in 2010, Tower Hamlets has secured the largest amount of funding of all local authorities in the UK – amounting to £74.7 million in five years.

The New Homes Bonus is a grant paid by central government to local councils in recognition of the complexities of providing additional homes.

The building of new homes is part of the council's strategy – A Great Place To Live.

This aims to: "Make the borough a place where people live in quality, affordable housing, located in clean and safe neighbourhoods, served by well-connected and easy to access services and community facilities."

Teacher William is pupils' choice for prime minister

STAFF and children at Elizabeth Selby Infants School marked the General Election by holding their very own poll.

Three members of staff stood as candidates offering a variety of incentives to voters.

Children then had to decide which candidate had performed the best.

They then took part in a secret ballot to elect their favourite Elizabeth Selby Prime Minister.

Head teacher Tej Stride chaired the debate and teacher William was duly elected.

Visit sheds light on the work of a genius

BY NINA WARHURST

A LITTLE piece of south Wales arrived in Stepney to celebrate Dylan Thomas day.

The Sir John Cass Foundation and Red Coat School in Stepney Way was selected by Literature Wales to host the Dylan Thomas Shed; a replica of the one the Swansea-born Thomas wrote many of his poems.

Dylan Thomas' granddaughter, Hannah Ellis also visited and shared stories about the poet who died aged 39.

Pupil Maiesha said: "Today was really inspiring. I learnt that you need courage and strength to write a poem, and today's performance got everyone involved."

The group from years seven and eight were also treated to a workshop with Martin Daws, who is Young People's Laureate of Wales.

Together they wrote a verse for Dylan's Great Poem; a 100-line work created by young people aged 7-25, which will be published in English and Welsh, and performed at the Hay Festival.

Martin Daws with Mohamed, Canday, Shanaz and Anthony

Head teacher Hadyn Evans said: "We are privileged to receive a representation from such an important literary figure such as Dylan Thomas. Literature and the promotion of literacy is such an important priority for the students here."

Sir John Cass is a specialist language school, and staff said pupils enjoy learning about Thomas because much of his work is printed in both English and Welsh.

Pupils regularly visit Wales as part of their Duke of Edinburgh award scheme and, next time they go, there might be an additional stop-off in Swansea.

GEORGE Green's School will be upgrading its reception, thanks to a £70,000 cheque from building firm Ballymore. School principal Jill Baker was presented with the cheque by Sean Mulryan, group owner.

She said that everyone was excited about the new reception area and was delighted to be working with Ballymore. Together with architect Angela Brady, who has designed the new reception, the principal has secured matched funding of a further £70,000.

Also present were group director and chief operating officer Paul Keogh, John Turner, the firm's director of town planning and Jodie Bender, a former George Green's School student who has worked with Ballymore since 2007. The existing entrance is used by 1,150 pupils every day.

Moviemakers head south

FILMS by six youngsters from Tower Hamlets were screened at a special event at the British Film Institute on the Southbank.

The Spotlight centre in Poplar helps 11- to 14-year-olds to develop their skills in writing, directing, filming and editing.

As part of the BFI project, the youngsters were challenged to make films on global issues, and they chose themes including climate change, cyber bullying and ethical fashion.

Megan Neagle and Nikhita Mani from Langdon Park School, and Jake Sheldon, Joel Pilkington, Charles Mathias and Saarah Syed Rahman from the East London Science School, were among children from 17 schools who attended the Southbank event, which was organised by Adobe Youth Voices and Eastside Educational Trust.

Magic and mayhem at Glamis

BY NINA WARHURST

IF you find yourself at Glamis Adventure Playground, you might discover a few unusual characters among the rope swings.

The playground is hosting a free production of Shakespeare's The Tempest on Friday, May 22, courtesy of the Cornucopia Theatre Company.

Scenes from the dress rehearsal of The Tempest at Glamis Adventure Playground

The open-air production is funded by the Arts Council, and tells the tale using the playground environment.

The Tempest is the story of the Native American Caliban, and the Norse Prospero, who commands the gravity-defying Ariel – a clue to how the swings might be used.

On a remote island, Prospero, the rightful Duke of Milan, plots to restore his daughter Miranda to her rightful place using illusion and manipulation. He conjures up a storm, a tempest, to lure his usurping brother Antonio and the complicit King Alonso of Naples to the island.

The playground has previously hosted productions of Macbeth, Romeo and Juliet and A Midsummer Night's Dream.

Actor Mark Duncan, from Cornucopia, said: "This will be even bigger and even better. We will be using circus art around the swings and other structures. Each time we get more ambitious and creative."

Mark said the company was always made to feel welcome by the local community and was delighted that, as well as 11 professional actors, a composer and director, around a dozen local young people would also have parts.

Last time Cornucopia performed at Glamis, hundreds turned up to see the show, some coming from other parts of the country.

What's the biggest challenge of a playground production? The weather. But Mark said: "It has to be torrential rain for us to cancel. If the audience stays, we stay."

Actor Mark Duncan (left) the dress rehearsal

The production will run at the playground in Glamis Road, Shadwell on May 22, 23, 24, 29, 30 and 31, and June 5, 6, 7, 12, 13 and 14, starting at 7.30pm. For more details, visit www.cornucopia-theatre.co.uk

Keeping community costs down

Useful information

Focus on family

News from the council's children's services team

SUCSESSES within children's services at Tower Hamlets are well-known such as our high-performing schools, new school building programmes and partnerships with the likes of Jamie Oliver.

But below the media radar, an untold amount of work is going on daily to improve the lives of children through work with local families.

Our Family Intervention Service (FiS) is responsible for delivering the service which the government calls the Troubled Families programme.

This team works with some of the borough's most vulnerable people: those who are out of work, caught up in crime or whose children are failing to attend school.

The families FiS works with often fall into all three of these categories.

Our specialist staff members help them address each problem they are facing.

In practice this can include accompanying parents to school meetings, helping them write a CV and offering professional counselling to help them cope with the stress of everyday life.

The latest government figures show the council has already turned around the lives of more than 900 families in Tower Hamlets.

This success means the borough has been accepted onto the second phase of the national scheme, so its vital work can continue.

This type of intervention does not just benefit that particular family: neighbours report fewer anti-social complaints, and costs to the community associated with crime and benefit claims are reduced.

In Tower Hamlets, we have extended this level of support to target an even harder-to-reach group and are now one of the few local authorities in the country to be working with prisoners and their families.

Our Prisoners' Family Project aims to support families and reduce reoffending by working with the person in prison and their family.

The family left behind when an offender is imprisoned is often overlooked. But the impact on them can be devastating.

Often the person jailed was the main breadwinner so the loss of this income can be dramatic, leading to the need for them to start claiming benefits.

For the family, the worker gives hands-on help as soon as a relative is jailed and will attend appointments with them, help organise prison visits, and help them fill out any paperwork, such as benefit forms.

Ensuring the family functions effectively can have important benefits and break the pattern of offending. Nationally, 65 per cent of boys with a convicted parent go on to offend.

Under the Prisoners' Family Project, practitioners prepare the family for coping with the turmoil that may follow when the offender returns home.

In the crucial period before an offender is released, the team will contact the person to help plan what needs to be done to support them coming home.

For instance, the worker will discuss their employment and training opportunities and help them with the necessary forms.

But the FiS is not stopping at this, and is constantly looking for new ways to reach out to the community.

It has recently launched an initiative, in partnership with charity Docklands Outreach and the council's youth service, in which specialist staff are based at A&E on weekend evenings.

Research has found that many of the young people attending A&E at the weekends are struggling with issues such as alcoholism, joblessness or housing problems. By being on hand, expert workers can intervene early and get the right help.

Everything we do in children's services is aimed at improving residents' lives.

Babs struts her stuff for Spitalfields Crypt Trust

Former EastEnders starts fundraising walk for charity

BY NINA WARHURST

A CHARITY helping people struggling with addiction and homelessness was given a boost when Barbara Windsor MBE volunteered for their fundraising event.

The former EastEnders star launched Spitalfields Crypt Trust's first charity shop strut, taking in the Trust's three shops, in Bethnal Green Road, Roman Road and Chrisp Street.

The event was the idea of Colin and Matti, who are both residents at the charity's recovery site, Acorn House.

Matti said: "It was just fantastic and

Barbara gets the walk under way with Colin (left) and Matti

Barbara was amazing. I was knackered after the event though!

"I wanted to work in the garden but I couldn't walk for a day after. I would love to do it again though."

Colin added: "It was great fun doing the strut. Barbara Windsor was great."

Barbara, who was born in Shoreditch, praised the pair.

"It's great to be back in Bethnal Green, near where I come from," she said.

"Good luck to Colin and Matti, I think it's wonderful what they're doing, especially for a small charity like this."

The trust is celebrating its 50th year. When it launched in 1965, it was one of just three rehab sites for alcoholic, homeless men.

The event raised more than £600, which will all go on treatment and support.

Film to benefit youngsters

YOUNGSTERS from Bethnal Green's Shadow Youth Alliance (SYA) became film stars for a night when their latest project was showcased at the Genesis Cinema in Mile End.

They filmed their summer adventure in which they tried to explain what it was like growing up in one of the most deprived boroughs in London and the barriers they face.

The documentary was then shown at Genesis and SYA's youngsters, along with staff who helped them, hope it will benefit other young people in Tower Hamlets and across the UK.

The aim was to get young people to meet each other and break down barriers and the stereotype misconception that young people don't get along.

SYA has been awarded a small grant from Tower Hamlets Community Housing to buy equipment for its football academy.

News in brief

Support needed

POSTGRADUATE student Michaela Mathieu-Marius, who is on a placement with a youth charity in Bethnal Green, will be taking her skills further afield when she visits St Lucia from May to July this year.

Michaela is a qualified counsellor and educator volunteer with the Daneford Trust. The charity promotes understanding, social responsibility, and respect through cultural, educational and work exchanges between young people in the UK and young people in Africa, Asia and the Caribbean.

In St Lucia, Michaela will volunteer at educational and rehabilitation centres.

And when she returns to London, she plans to visit schools and colleges to encourage, advise and support young people.

Michaela is asking residents to support her visit.

Freedom of the city

EMDAD Rahman was granted Freedom of the City of London at a ceremony in the Guildhall last week.

Emdad, who works for the council, volunteers regularly at Tower Hamlets Food Bank and soup kitchens for the homeless.

He attended a ceremony at the Guildhall where he was presented with a Freedom certificate.

"I am delighted to receive such prestigious recognition," he said.

Freedom of the City of London is an ancient privilege, first awarded in 1237 to recognise the rights of a person who was not owned by a feudal lord. Nowadays, the rights granted by the Freedom are symbolic rather than practical.

R3cycler Treasure Hunts!

CHILDREN can learn about the importance of recycling at a series of treasure hunts during May half-term.

Youngsters are invited to take part in recycling-themed treasure hunts by R3Cycler, the mini robot (pictured left) made from recycled pink bins and food waste caddies. The first treasure hunt will be held at Weavers Fields on Wednesday, May 27. This will be followed by a hunt at Mile End Park on Friday, May 29. A final event will be held as part of the Langdon Park Family Fun Day on Saturday, May 30. All three will run from 11am-3pm. Participants will need to locate seven nature-themed signs hidden around each park. To receive a free goody bag of robot- and nature-themed goodies, children will need to combine the signs to reveal a winning word. Simply turn up at the location and keep an eye out for the Veolia pink recycling gazebo and R3Cycler robot driving around the area. The events follow the popular outer space treasure hunts that were held during October half-term last year.

Borough sees increase in flu jab uptake

TOWER Hamlets had a 75 per cent uptake of the flu vaccine this winter and was the top borough in London for the delivery of the jab to over-65s.

The borough was also the second most successful in delivering the vaccine to other eligible groups including pregnant women and people with long-term conditions like diabetes.

For healthy people, flu is an unpleasant experience but for some it can be really serious.

All GP surgeries in the borough and many pharmacies offer the jab free of charge to people who are at risk, to make sure they are protected against catching flu and developing serious complications.

Sir Sam Everington, local GP and chair of NHS Tower Hamlets Clinical Commissioning Group, said: "I would like to thank everyone who took the time to get the jab. We are delighted we have greater flu protection in Tower Hamlets than in other parts of London for those most at risk."

Further information about receiving next year's flu vaccine can be found at www.nhs.uk

A chance to explore trials

RESIDENTS are being invited to discover how they can help save lives by getting involved with clinical trials.

From May 20-29, Barts Health NHS Trust is inviting the public to explore the different types of clinical trials running locally and find out why researchers need their support.

Staff will be on hand to talk about studies they are involved in, what participating in a clinical trial is like and answer questions. There will also be a chance to tour the clinical research facilities at The Royal London Hospital.

Attendance for some of the events must be pre-booked. Visit www.bartshealth.nhs.uk/takepart2015

Do something new for dementia awareness

BY ANNA WILSON

SUPPORTERS of Dementia Awareness Week are being encouraged to #DoSomethingNew as life doesn't end when dementia begins.

The council is supporting the national week, from May 17-23, which is led by the Alzheimer's Society. The event aims to raise awareness of the illness and local services available to residents and their families.

Doing something new could be as simple as trying a new recipe or getting involved in an exercise class. Use the #DoSomethingNew and #DAW2015 hashtags along with a picture of yourself enjoying your new experience on social media.

The word 'dementia' describes symptoms that occur when the brain is affected by specific diseases and conditions.

Symptoms of dementia include loss of memory, confusion and problems with speech and understanding.

There are many different types of dementia, but they are all caused when the brain is damaged by disease, such as Alzheimer's or vascular disease.

Dementia mainly affects people over the age of 65 but it can affect people at a younger age.

Alzheimer's Society Tower Hamlets will be holding a series of talks and information stalls to help anyone who needs advice on dementia over the week.

Events are taking place at Whitechapel Idea Store on Monday, May 18. An information stall will run from 10am-12noon and a drop-in session for over-50s will run from 10am-1pm.

Stalls will be open on Tuesday, May 19 and Wednesday, 20 from 10am-1pm, in the departure lounge at the Royal London Hospital in Whitechapel, and on Thursday, 21 and Friday, 22 from 10am-1pm at Mile End Hospital, E1.

The number of people diagnosed locally has increased over the past few years. A recent report showed that of the 1,152 people thought to have dementia in Tower Hamlets, approximately 73 per cent have been diagnosed, compared to 52 per cent in 2012.

This positive increase is a result of close partnership working between the council, the NHS, the Alzheimer's Society and other voluntary sector and social care partners.

However, a significant number of people living with dementia have not yet received a diagnosis.

Dr Somen Banerjee, director of public health, said: "Early diagnosis is important, as it helps people get the right treatment and helps family members better understand what is happening so they can plan for the future.

"We continue to build on our successes of working closely in partnership to ensure residents have access to services."

There are many services that support people to #DoSomethingNew and provide a range of help for people with dementia and their carers, funded by the council and NHS. There are four dementia cafés put on by the Alzheimer's Society, four times a month, two in English and two in Sylheti.

The cafés involve fun social activities and information to help people better understand dementia and learn about services in the community that can support them.

For more information on dementia, the café events and accessing support and services in Tower Hamlets visit www.alzheimers.org.uk or contact Alzheimer's Society Tower Hamlets on 8121 5626.

Sexual health clinic to open for under-25s

A DEDICATED Saturday sexual health clinic for young people in Tower Hamlets is being launched.

From May 23, there will be a walk-in service from 12noon-3pm, specifically for under-25s.

It will be based at the Ambrose King centre in Whitechapel and visitors will have access to specialist advisers who can diagnose and treat sexually transmitted infections. Visitors will also be offered free contraceptives.

It's part of changes from Barts Health NHS Trust, and consultant Janet Barter said: "Sexual and reproductive health is a vital part of staying healthy and helping to keep others safe.

"I would urge local people to make an appointment if they have any questions or concerns."

The Saturday service at the Sylvia Pankhurst Centre at Mile End hospital will also move to the Ambrose King Centre, which is on Mount Terrace.

Registration will open from 8:30am and users are advised to use the online booking service to make an appointment.

Globe surgery is rated 'Good'

THE Globe Town Surgery in Bethnal Green has been rated as 'Good', in a report by the Care Quality Commission (CQC).

The surgery was inspected by the CQC and given a rating according to whether it is safe, effective, caring, responsive and well led.

The commission is the independent regulator of health and social care in England.

It monitors, inspects and regulates services to make sure they meet standards of quality and safety and publishes what it finds to help people choose the care they receive.

Have your say on health services

BY SUSAN MULLIGAN

RESIDENTS have the chance to shape health services in the borough.

Healthwatch Tower Hamlets is holding a Community Listening event on May 20, at Tarling East Community Centre, Martha Street, Shadwell, from 10.30am-1.30pm.

The group's chair, David Burbidge, said: "Healthwatch Tower Hamlets is the consumer's champion. We want residents to tell us what they think about health services, so that we can make them better."

Healthwatch is an independent organisation, created to ensure local peoples' experiences of health and social care are taken into account by service providers.

At www.healthwatchtowerhamlets.co.uk patients can give star ratings to their GP, dentist, local surgery or hospital, and grade them on everything from cleanliness and staff attitude to the quality of care and food.

"I would encourage all local people to come to our event and to become members of Healthwatch," Mr Burbidge said.

Since its launch in 2013, Healthwatch has raised residents' concerns about Barts

Hospital, which were used by the Care Quality Commission (CQC) to inform a series of inspections.

The Young People's Panel identified the health priorities of young people in the borough, and raised £10,000 to tackle the smoking of shisha.

Healthwatch Tower Hamlets also commissioned Social Action for Health to recruit and support patient leaders to take part in commissioning, quality reviews and service design at a strategic level.

STEPNEY City Farm ran a bee experience to educate people about the insect and what they can do to encourage pollination. The event started with an introduction to bees, how they live and communicate, and described what happens inside a hive. The group were also taught about the 'waggle dance', a figure-eight movement performed by the honey bee to share information about the locations of flowers, water sources and potential new nest sites. Visitors wore protective suits as they looked inside a hive and even watched a bee hatch. Along with honey tasting and making frames to use in the hive, the group got an insight into what a beekeeper does. The next event is on Saturday, June 27. History

History is just a few footsteps away

BY JOHN RENNIE

LEFT and right, in or out of Europe, a United Kingdom or a federal Britain. The events of the last week seemed to be all about taking sides.

But as musician Billy Bragg writes in the introduction to David Rosenberg's Rebel Footprints, in times past “the battle lines, rather than being all about ideological differences were more often focused on the challenge of holding those in power to account”.

That accounting took place on streets all around Tower Hamlets. So this week, we accompany author David Rosenberg on a series of walks around the East End, and uncover the history that's still there...if we know where to look.

And it's in the unlikely suburb of Bow, rather genteel by the standards of the Victorian East End (though Coborn Road was called Cut-throat Lane until 1800, so not that genteel) that “the spark of rebellion” first flared.

We walk up Harley Grove and past the site of the old home of the Daily Herald editor and rebel Labour MP George Lansbury, radicalised and transported from Liberal to Labour by the 1889 London Dock Strike.

Past the synagogue that in 1927 replaced the earlier Methodist chapel, and a reminder of how prevalent anti-semitism was in the old East End. Captain John Colomb, Tory MP for Bow, greeted the incoming Jews with the observation: “I object to England, with its overcrowded population, being made a human ashpit for the refuse population of the world.”

Past the Bryant and May factory (now the Bow Quarter) and a plaque commemorating Annie Besant's role in the great strike of 1888.

And to the statue of Gladstone by Bow Church – donated by Theodore Bryant, but paid for by his docking a shilling from his workers' wages. The furious women showed what they thought by cutting themselves and daubing the PM's statue with their blood. Periodically, to this day, activists mark this by tipping red paint over the unfortunate politico.

To 198 Bow Road, where the East London Federation of Suffragettes once met in a disused bakery. And past the old Poplar Town Hall on the corner of Fairfield Road – a reminder of when the councils were rather more local, and there's a blue plaque to remember the old Green Goose Fair, once a Whitsun tradition but banned in 1823 due to raucous behaviour.

Gaze up as you stand under the portico

Making toys for the Suffragettes in Norman Grove, Bow and you'll see a stunning mosaic depicting dockers unloading a variety of goods. A reminder of Beatrice Potter's observation that “the luxuries of our elaborate civilisation pass familiarly through the dock labourer's hands”. Remember too the Great Dock Strike of 1888-89, and how the trades unions were born in that conflict.

To Spitalfields and a radicalism even more frightening for the authorities, for it came largely from abroad. In September 1889, as the docks lay idle, the local papers claimed the whole East End was “infected” with strike fever.

A few months earlier, the gasworkers at Beckton, led by Will Thorne, had fought for shorter hours rather than higher pay. Now they were working just eight hours a day. Garment workers in Spitalfields, toiling for a scarcely believable 14 to 18 hours a day, decided they would follow suit.

A disaster for the moneyed gentlemen of the West End (MPs among them); they may have been measured for their fine suits in Savile Row, but the actual tailoring was farmed out to Spitalfields sweatshops.

The Federation of East London Labour Unions was duly launched at Mile End's Great Assembly Hall, the Eastern Post reporting that “2,800 were present, and speeches were made in different languages and translated”.

Non-Jewish union leaders, such as Ben Tillett and Tom Mann, spoke alongside Jewish militants representing tailors, cap makers, stick makers, furriers and carpenters.

There were activists like Woolf Wess, who had worked as a shoemaker at 12 before leaving Dvinsk in what is now Latvia and coming to London “with radical ideas” – just the sort of man the authorities feared. Wess and his comrades would found the International Workers Education Club in Berners Street.

Suffragette Sylvia Pankhurst being arrested

There was Rudolf Rocker, expelled from Germany for left-wing political activism, now renting a room in Shoreditch where he found “an abyss of human suffering... dreary tumbledown hovels” and a Britain where “riches and poverty lived almost on top of each other”.

Our walk round Whitechapel takes in the old library, which was so important in the education of young political thinkers, becoming known as the people's university of the East End'. Past Angel Alley where Freedom Books continues the anarchist tradition established by the Arbeter Fraynd newspaper for which Rocker wrote. You'll see Rocker on the artwork on the wall here.

Down Gunthorpe Street and the site of the former offices of the Jewish Daily Post, the first daily English-language Jewish newspaper in England. Into Wentworth Street, where lived Sarah Wesker, who led strikes at East End trouser factories in the 1920s and 30s.

Then to 136 Brick Lane, where were the meeting rooms from the Workers' Circle, and into Hanbury Street, where Jewish anarchist Barnett Ruderman was the first publisher of radical Yiddish books in England.

The next walk takes us back to Bow and Poplar, where in 1921 the councillors refusal to raise the rate saw 30 of them sent to gaol, and the extraordinary site of the full council meeting within Brixton prison, the women councillors brought down from Holloway.

The East London Federation of Suffragettes loom large on this walk too, with the toy factory established by the ELFS at Norman Grove, Roman Road where the suffragettes sold their paper – the Woman's Dreadnought – and the Gunmakers Arms pub, converted by the ELFS into the Mother's Arms mother and baby clinic.

A number of enjoyable days out in prospect then at least. But this terrific little book offers rather more than that.

In a London where it seems sometimes that money is all that matters, and where many of us can no longer afford to even put down roots, it's a memory of what London was.

As veteran left winger Jeremy Corbyn writes: “Anyone reading this will walk the streets of our city with a different view of the world, and what people can do when they act together.”

সরকারের কাছ থেকে আবাসন খাতে ২৪.৮ মিলিয়ন পাউন্ড অনুদান পেলো টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ কাউন্সিল

Borough secures £24.8 million for housing – page 5

টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ কাউন্সিল চলতি অর্থ বছরে (২০১৫-১৬) সরকারের নিউ হোমস্ বোনাস স্কীম থেকে আবাসন খাতে ২৪ দশমিক ৮ মিলিয়ন পাউন্ড লাভ করেছে।

দেশের অন্য যে কোন বারার তুলনায় বেশি অর্থ লাভ করেছে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ বারা।

আবাসন খাতে নির্মাণ ও উন্নয়ন প্রকল্পে কাউন্সিলের কর্তার পরিশ্রমের ফলে সরকারের কাছ থেকে এই তহবিল লাভ করলো। বারার বাসিন্দাদের জন্য ঘর-বাড়ির সংখ্যা বৃদ্ধির লক্ষ্যে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটসের যে অঙ্গিকার, তারই সরকারী স্বীকৃতি হলো এই অনুদান।

২০১১ থেকে ২০১৫ - এই সময়ের মধ্যে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ তার হাউজিং স্টক ১৪ হাজার ৫৪৭ এ উন্নীত করেছে এবং খালি পড়ে থাকা

৭৬৯টি ঘরকে ব্যবহারের আওতায় এনেছে।

কাউন্সিলের কর্পোরেট ডিরেক্টর অব ডেভেলপমেন্ট এন্ড রিনিউয়্যাল, আমান ডালভি বলেন, বারার জনসাধারণের জন্য সামর্থ্যবীন বাড়ি-ঘর নির্মাণে প্রতিদিন আমরা যে কর্তার পরিশ্রম করে যাচ্ছি, তারই স্বীকৃতি আবারও পাওয়া গেলো সরকারের কাছ থেকে। টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটসকে প্রতিটি বাসিন্দার জন্য বসবাসের চমৎকার একটি জনপদ হিসেবে গড়ে তুলতে আমাদের যে অঙ্গিকার, তারই ফলশ্রুতিতে আমরা এই স্বীকৃতি পেয়েছি।

উল্লেখ্য, ২০১০ সালে নিউ হোমস্ বোনাস স্কীম চালুর পর থেকে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ সারা দেশের অন্যান্য সকল লকাল অথরিটির চেয়ে বেশি তহবিল লাভ করেছে। গত ৫টি অর্থবছরে

টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ এই স্কীম থেকে ৭৪.৭ মিলিয়ন পাউন্ড তহবিল লাভ করে।

অতিরিক্ত বাড়ি-ঘরের ব্যবস্থা করার ক্ষেত্রে অর্জিত সাফল্যের উপর ভিত্তি করেই কেন্দ্রীয় সরকার এই অনুদান দিয়ে থাকে।

‘বসবাসের জন্য চমৎকার জনপদ’ কাউন্সিলের এই নীতিমালার অংশ হিসেবেই নতুন বাড়ি-ঘর নির্মাণ করা হচ্ছে। এই নীতিমালার লক্ষ্য হচ্ছে - বারাকে এমন এক জনপদ হিসেবে গড়ে তোলা, যেখানে জনসাধারণ মানসম্মত সামর্থ্যবীন আবাসনে বসবাস করতে পারবেন, তারা পাবেন পরিচ্ছন্ন ও নিরাপদ নৈইবারহুড এবং খুব সহজেই সকল সেবামূলক সার্ভিস ও কমিউনিটি অবকাঠামোর সুবিধা উপভোগ করতে পারবেন।

প্রতিদিন ১০ পাউন্ডে মার্কেট ট্রেডার হওয়ার সুযোগ নিন

Could you be a market trader? – issue 1059

বারার মার্কেট অর্থাৎ রাস্তার পাশে যেসব হাট বসে, সেগুলোতে কেনাকাটায় লোকজনকে উদ্বুদ্ধ করতে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ কাউন্সিল ও জাতীয় প্রচারাভিযানের অংশ হিসেবে শুরু করেছে পক্ষকাল ব্যাপি ‘লাভ ইওর লকাল মার্কেট’ ক্যাম্পেইন।

১৩ মে থেকে শুরু হওয়া এই ক্যাম্পেইন চলবে ২৭ মে পর্যন্ত। এ উপলক্ষে প্রতিদিন ১০ পাউন্ডে মার্কেট ট্রেডার হওয়ার সুযোগ নিতে আগ্রহী বাসিন্দাদের প্রতি আহ্বান জানানো হয়েছে। যারা কোন দিনই মার্কেটে স্টল দিয়ে ব্যবসা করেননি, তাদেরকে স্টলহোল্ডার হওয়ার অভিজ্ঞতা দিতেই এই বিশেষ অফার দেয়া হয়েছে।

বসন্তকালীন আবহওয়া এখন, আর স্ট্রিট মার্কেট ট্রেডার হওয়ার এটাই উপযুক্ত সময়।

সোমবার থেকে শনিবার পর্যন্ত ক্রিসপ স্ট্রিট, রোমান রোড, রোমান রোড স্কোয়ার এবং বেথনাল গ্রীণ রোড মার্কেটে স্টল দিয়ে ব্যবসা করতে বাসিন্দাদের প্রতি আহ্বান জানানো হয়েছে। এছাড়া রোববার এই সুযোগ থাকবে চেশায়ার

স্ট্রিট, স্কেলটার স্ট্রিট, বেকন স্ট্রিট এবং পেটিকোট লেন সানডে মার্কেটেও।

কিভাবে মার্কেট ট্রেডার হবেন, সেব্যাপারে নিশ্চিত না হলে দৃষ্টিভ্রান্তি করার কিছু নাই। এটা খুবই সোজা। কী বিক্রি করবেন, তা ঠিক করুন আগে। এরপর স্ট্রিট ট্রেডার হিসেবে চেষ্টা করে দেখতে পারেন।

লন্ডনের সেরা মার্কেটগুলোর কয়েকটি রয়েছে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটসে। এমন বৈচিত্র্যময় পণ্য সম্ভার নিয়ে আর কোন মার্কেট এই বারার বাইরে পাওয়া যাবেনা।

টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ কাউন্সিলের সরাসরি

ব্যবস্থাপনায় পরিচালিত হচ্ছে ১০টি স্ট্রিট মার্কেট। বারার মার্কেটগুলোতে বছরে ২১ মিলিয়ন পাউন্ডেরও বেশি ব্যবসা হয়ে থাকে। প্রায় তিন শতাধিক লোকের কর্মসংস্থান হয়েছে এসব মার্কেটে।

স্ট্রিট মার্কেটে স্টল দিয়ে ব্যবসা করতে আগ্রহীরা প্রতিদিন ১০ পাউন্ড স্টল দেয়ার এই সুযোগ নিতে পারবেন। এজন্য শুধুমাত্র একটি রেজিস্ট্রেশন ফরম পূরণ করতে হবে।

০২০ ৭৩৬৪ ১৭১২ নাম্বারে ফোন করে মার্কেট সার্ভিসেস অফিসের সাথে যোগাযোগ করে এ ব্যাপারে বিস্তারিত তথ্য জানা যাবে।

লেবেলবিহীন পাম ওয়েল সম্পর্কে সতর্ক থাকতে

ক্রেতা ও বিক্রেতাদের সতর্ক করেছে কাউন্সিল

Contaminated palm oil warning – issue 1059

লেবেল ছাড়া পাম ওয়েল কন্টেইনার সম্পর্কে ক্রেতা ও খুচরা বিক্রেতাদের সতর্ক করেছে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ কাউন্সিল।

কাউন্সিলের ফুড সেফটি টিম বিশ্বাস করে যে, এইসব কন্টেইনারের পাম ওয়েলে বেআইনী ডিএনএ ও সুদান ৪ রাসায়নিক উপাদান রয়েছে।

সুদান ৪ এর কারণে ক্যান্সার হওয়ার ঝুঁকি বাড়ে এবং এটা যুক্তরাজ্যে খাবারে ব্যবহার বেআইনী। সুদান ভাই দেখতে লাল রংয়ের হয় এবং এটি তেল, ওয়াশ, পেট্রলের রং উজ্জল

করতে এবং জুতো কিংবা ফ্লোর পলিশ করতে ব্যবহার করা হয়।

লন্ডনের এসই১৬ পোস্টকোড এরিয়া অবস্থিত

দ্যা ক্যামটয় মিয়ান ক্যাশ এন্ড ক্যারিতে ঘানা থেকে আমদানীকৃত এই লেবেলবিহীন পাম ওয়েল পাওয়া গেছে।

এই ভোজ্য তেলটি জনস্বাস্থ্যের জন্য খুবই ক্ষতিকর। কোন দোকানে কেউ এটা বিক্রি হতে দেখেন, তাহলে ০২০ ৩৬৪ ৫০০৮ নাম্বারে ফোন করে কাউন্সিলের ফুড সেফটি টিমকে অবহিত করতে অনুরোধ করা হয়েছে। কোন দোকানদার যদি এটি স্টক করে থাকেন, তাহলে অবিলম্বে তা সরিয়ে ফেলতে অনুরোধ করা হয়েছে।

প্রথম বিশ্ব যুদ্ধের দুই বীর এর প্রতি শ্রদ্ধা জ্ঞাপন

আগামী ১১ মে থেকে ১৭ মে পর্যন্ত অনুষ্ঠিত হবে মানসিক স্বাস্থ্য সচেতনতা সপ্তাহ। এই সপ্তাহকে সামনে রেখে নিজেদের মানসিক স্বাস্থ্য সম্পর্কে অধিকতর মনোযোগী হওয়ার জন্য কাউন্সিল বাসিন্দাদের প্রতি অনুরোধ জানিয়েছে। প্রতি বছর সারা দেশে মানসিক স্বাস্থ্য সম্পর্কে জনসচেতনতা সৃষ্টির লক্ষ্যে এই প্রচারাভিযান চালানো হয়। বিস্তারিত সংবাদ নিচে -

প্রথম বিশ্ব যুদ্ধের দুই বীর এর প্রতি শ্রদ্ধা জানাতে টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ কাউন্সিল স্থাপন করলো বিশেষ স্মারক প্রস্তর

Brave war veterans honoured – issue 1059

যুদ্ধে বীরত্বের স্বীকৃতি স্বরূপ সর্বোচ্চ সম্মান ভিক্টোরিয়া ক্রস লাভকারী টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটসের দুই বীরের স্মৃতি প্রতি শ্রদ্ধা জানাতে বারার দুটি বাগানে স্মারক প্রস্তর স্থাপন করা হয়েছে।

প্রথম বিশ্বযুদ্ধের শত বার্ষিকী উদযাপনে সরকারী কর্মসূচির অংশ হিসেবে দুই বীরের নামে বিশেষ প্রস্তর স্থাপন করা হয়।

টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ কাউন্সিলের উদ্যোগে গত ২৯ ও ৩০ এপ্রিল কর্পোরাল ইসি স্মিথ এবং লেফ-টেনেন্ট জেওফ্রি উলির নামাঙ্কিত প্রস্তর আনুষ্ঠানিকভাবে উদ্বোধন করা হয়।

কর্পোরাল ইসি স্মিথের সম্মানে বিশেষ এই প্রস্তরটি স্থাপন করা হয় রোপওয়াক গার্ডেনে।

ধারনা করা হয় যে, কর্পোরাল স্মিথ ১৮৯০ সালে মিশরের একটি শহরে জন্ম গ্রহণ করেন, যেখানে তার পিতা ফ্রান্সের কনসুলার সার্ভিসে কাজ করতেন। ১১ বছর বয়সে তিনি লন্ডন পাড়ি জমান এবং টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটসে বসবাস শুরু করেন। বার্নার স্ট্রিট স্কুলে পড়েছেন তিনি এবং

পরবর্তীতে ডেলভারি ম্যান হিসেবে কাজ করেন। প্রথম বিশ্ব যুদ্ধ শুরুর আগে তিনি ব্রিটিশ আর্মিতে কিছু দিন কাজ করেন এবং যুদ্ধ শুরুর প্রাক্কালে তিনি অস্ট্রেলিয়া পাড়ি জমান। ১৯১৪ সালে পুরোদমে যুদ্ধ শুরু হলে ব্রিটিশ আর্মির রিজার্ভিস্ট হিসেবে যোগ দেন স্মিথ।

১৯১৫ সালের ২৬ এপ্রিল সংঘটিত এক যুদ্ধে সাহসিকতার স্বীকৃতি স্বরূপ তিনি ভিক্টোরিয়া ক্রস লাভ করেন।

১৯২৫ সালে তিনি ও তার স্ত্রী ফিরে যান অস্ট্রেলিয়া এবং ১৯৪০ সালে তিনি মারা যান। মেলবোর্ন এর ফোকনার সেমেট্রিতে পূর্ণাঙ্গ সামরিক মর্যাদায় তাকে সমাহিত করা হয়।

লেফটেনেন্ট উলির সম্মানে স্মারক প্রস্তরটি স্থাপন করা হয় বেথনাল গ্রীণ গার্ডেনে, যা ৩০ এপ্রিল আনুষ্ঠানিকভাবে উদ্বোধন করা হয়। এসময় তার ছেলে নিক উলি উপস্থিত ছিলেন এবং বাবার বীরত্বের প্রতি তার শ্রদ্ধাঞ্জলি নিবেদন করেন। জেফরি উলি ছিলেন প্রথম টেরিটোরিয়াল আর্মি

অফিসার, যিনি ভিক্টোরিয়া ক্রস লাভ করেন। ১৮৯২ সালে বেথনাল গ্রীণের পিটারস্ ভিকারেজ এ জন্ম গ্রহণ করেন তিনি। তাঁর পিতা ছিলেন ডিকার। প্রথম বিশ্ব যুদ্ধ শুরু হলে তিনি কুইন ভিক্টোরিয়া রাইফেলস্ এর ব্যাটালিয়ন অব লন্ডন রেজিমেন্টে যোগ দেন। এই ব্যাটালিয়নটি এপ্রেন্স সালিয়েন্ট এ নিয়োজিত করা হয়। ১৯১৫ সালের ১৭ এপ্রিল এপ্রেন্স এর দক্ষিণের কৌশলগত দিক থেকে খুবই গুরুত্বপূর্ণ একটি পাহাড় হিল ৬০ ব্রিটিশ আর্মি দখল করে নিতে সক্ষম হয়। এই যুদ্ধে বীরত্বের স্বাক্ষর রাখায় তিনি ভিক্টোরিয়া ক্রস লাভ করেন।

যুদ্ধ শেষে তিনি আবার লেখাপড়া ফিরে যান। অক্সফোর্ড ইউনিভার্সিটিতে থিওলোজী নিয়ে অধ্যয়ন করেন। পরবর্তীতে তিনি পিতার পদাঙ্ক অনুসরণ করে ডিকার হন এবং সর্বশেষ দায়িত্ব পালন করেন ইস্ট গ্রিনস্টেড এর প্যারিশে, যেখানে ১৯৫৮ সালে তিনি অবসর নেন। তিনি মারা যান ১৯৬৮ সালে।

অবৈধ স্ট্রিট ট্রেডারদের বিরুদ্ধে সাড়াঁশি অভিযান

THEOs foil unlicensed street traders – issue 1059

টাওয়ার হিল এবং টাওয়ারগ্রীজ এলাকায় সংঘবদ্ধ চক্র কর্তৃক লাইসেন্সবিহীন স্ট্রিট ট্রেডিং বা বেআইনীভাবে রাস্তায় ব্যবসা পরিচালনাকারীদের বিরুদ্ধে সাড়াঁশি অভিযান চালান টাওয়ার হ্যামলেটস্ এনফোর্সমেন্ট অফিসাররা (থিও)।

সাদা পোশাকধারী অফিসাররা অনুসন্ধান অভিযান চালিয়ে সন্দেহভাজনদের চিহ্নিত করেন এবং লাইসেন্স ছাড়া রাস্তায় ব্যবসা করার দায়ে গত দুই মাসে ৩০টি ফিল্ড প্যানাল্টি নোটিশ প্রদান করেন। টাওয়ার হিল এলাকার ব্যবসা প্রতিষ্ঠানগুলো এবং টাওয়ার গ্রীজের নিরাপত্তা বিভাগ, মেট্রোপলিটান পুলিশ ও সিটি পুলিশের সাথে লিয়াজো করে এই অভিযান চালায়।

জরিমানা ছাড়াও মেট্রোপলিটান পুলিশ অনেক সন্দেহভাজন স্ট্রিট ট্রেডারকে গ্রেফতার

করে, যা এই সমস্যা দূর করতে বেশ কাজে এসেছে।

পূর্ব ইউরোপীয় গ্যাংগুলোর তত্ত্বাবধানে এই অবৈধ কার্যকলাপ এখানে পরিচালিত হতো। এরা ট্রলি করে খাবার বিক্রি, 'থ্রি কার্ড ট্রিক' এর মাধ্যমে বেআইনী জুয়া খেলা ও ভিক্ষাবৃত্তির মতো কাজ করে থাকে।

এই চক্রটি ট্যুরিস্টদের টার্গেট করে এবং গ্যাং সদস্যরা জনপ্রতি দিনে প্রায় ৫০০ পাউন্ড পর্যন্ত মানুষের কাছ থেকে হাতিয়ে নেয়।

Cadets and youth groups from across London came to Wapping to celebrate the 70th anniversary of VE Day. Helen Watson reports. Photos by Michael Nolan and Stewart Turkington.

ARMED with ration books and wartime memories, revellers flocked to a riverside celebration marking 70 years since the end of the Second World War in Europe.

The Reserve Forces' and Cadets' Association for Greater London hosted a 1945-themed party on Saturday, May 9, at the home of London's Royal Naval Reserve Unit at HMS President in St Katharine's Way.

'Ration book' invitations brought cadets, veterans and 150 guests to the event which featured air raid sirens, bunting, wartime themed food and music from the 1940s.

Young and old celebrated the historic day and thanked local veterans, many of whom had served in the war itself.

Invited guests included HM The Queen's representative The Lord-Lieutenant for Greater London Sir David Brewer and Jeffrey Evans, Lord Mountevans of Chelsea, who represented the Lord Mayor of the City of London, civic dignitaries and representatives from Tower Hamlets Council.

Other guests were young people from YOU (Youth Organisations in Uniform) cadets, veterans from the Royal Hospital Chelsea, housing group Stoll, the Royal British Legion, forces' charity SSAFA and representatives from local charities and organisations.

Participating cadets, some of whom were dressed in 1940s clothes, came from the Air Training Corps, Army Cadet Force, Fire Cadets, Girls' Brigade, Girl Guiding, Sea Cadet Corps, St John Ambulance and Volunteer Police Cadets.

Army Reservists from Bomb Disposal unit 101 Engineer Regiment (Royal Engineers) are celebrating 75 years of bomb disposal this year, and brought along both Second World War and modern day specialist equipment, enabling guests to see advances in search and disposal techniques.

Louis Currie, 17, a Tower Hamlets Fire Cadet based at Millwall fire station in West Ferry Road, was thrilled to have been involved in the celebration.

"I've learnt so much today from talking to many of the guests," he said.

"I realise that I wouldn't be here if it wasn't for a lot of the people in this room and I'm going to be thankful every day!"

Guests were treated to musical favourites played by Air Cadets from 56F (Woolwich Squadron) and a combined Corps of Drums provided a spectacular display.

The party concluded with a musical set by young musician Beatie Wolfe.

Sir David Brewer said: "Thank you to the guests for coming along to make this event such a memorable occasion – to the young people proudly showing off their organisations and who have so much to thank the veterans for.

"And the veterans, who perhaps remember corned beef and devilled eggs the first time around!"

Jack Lavender: A Hardcore Stomping Flashback

This is one slick show – quite literally. The Approach gallery floor is so slippery that you have to tread carefully to keep from falling over as you make your way across a surface densely strewn with thousands of glossy, loose sheets of paper. Every page is identically printed on both sides with a photograph of footprints in mud. The young London artist is using images of real ground to create an artificial surface.

Weds to Sun, 12 noon to 6pm.
Until Sunday, May 31, 2015.

Interactive arts for all the family

A SERIES of interactive arts activities for children is set to take place at Trinity Buoy Wharf from Saturday, May 23.

The drawing activities, which have been compiled into a 12-page booklet, have been specially designed to help children learn about the history and the culture of Docklands' most exciting arts quarter.

The book, created by White Wall Yellow Door in partnership with the Trinity Buoy Wharf Trust, will be available free of charge from May 23 to September 23 at the main gate.

Situated on the bank of the Thames, Trinity Buoy Wharf is a thriving centre for the arts and creative industries.

Home to London's only light-house, visitors will also be able to encounter Jem Finer's 1,000 year-long musical composition; the Longplayer, one of London's smallest museums, The Faraday Effect, and a range of other permanent art installations.

White Wall Yellow Door is an artist-run initiative focused on providing museums, galleries, theatres and other cultural establishments with resources for families and children.

Activities are designed to inspire families to work together to get more out of the exhibitions and performances they visit through our innovative, interpretive and seductive material.

"We have designed the activities to help families engage their children in different qualities we found so inspiring, in relation to the sights and the sounds of the river, and ideas explored by the different artworks and installations.

"The focus might be on time, tide and navigation as well as the richness of our marine heritage", said artist and founder Sophy Rickett.

IN December 2014 four artists from east London visited Dovedale at the edge of the Peak District with the aim of exploring how an alien environment would influence their work.

The Latitude/Longitude: 53.0530, -1.8055 exhibition at the Brady Arts Centre, which runs until Thursday, May 28, shows the result of that trip. Kim Bennett studied sculpture at St Martins in the 1970s and went on to complete an MA in Fine Art in 2008. As a maker and teacher of art, he has worked on several community mural projects and residencies, and was commissioned to make The Domino Players sculpture in East India Dock. Tim Edwards is a photographer whose work has concentrated on sports and portraiture.

Steve Latner is an artist whose work cuts across a variety of 2D and 3D media, but his passion for photography remains unsurpassed.

John Sole has evolved his practice from draughtsmanship and illustration into photography.

The exhibition is free and is open Mon-Fri, 9am-7pm, Sat 10.30am-5pm. For more information call 7364 7900.

Shows will go on during Theatre Royal makeover

BY MELANIE YEA

THEATRE Royal Stratford East has announced details of a major auditorium refurbishment.

Planned works include renewing all the seating throughout the auditorium, the upper circle will be resteped and the current bench seating will be replaced with individual seats, while the stalls will see the addition of an extra 17 spaces.

Floors will be repaired on each level, and new carpet will be laid throughout.

There will be major painting and plaster repair works carried out throughout and this work will focus on the proscenium arch, the front of the upper and Jean Brown dress circles and boxes.

The theatre was built in 1884 by James George Buckle and first refurbished in 1902 by Frank Matcham. The last auditorium refurbishment was carried out more than 20 years ago, with a subsequent front of house revamp in 2001.

The current improvement works will deliver a comfortable, revitalised and resilient space that will enhance the visitor's experiences.

Kerry Michael, artistic director, said: "We have a beautiful Grade II listed auditorium that is well used and requires a lot of maintenance. We are pleased to have been awarded £208,000 from the Arts Council to undertake this project, as well as a further £5,000 from the Theatres Trust to carry out repairs to the safety curtain.

"These works mean we will be able to meet our audiences' expectations of comfort and quality.

"During this period we will continue to have performances in different formats while our auditorium is getting a new lease of life.

"We also have our ongoing programme of events in the Theatre Workshop Bar, including comedy, music and open mic nights and spoken word artists. There's something on every day and admittance is free.

"We're looking forward to unveiling our refreshed auditorium in early September with our autumn season, which we'll be announcing shortly."

For more information on the repair work, or the summer/autumn programme visit www.stratfordeast.com

News in brief

Celebrating Alice

CELEBRATE the 150th anniversary of Lewis Carroll's Alice in Wonderland's this half-term with a series of daily drop-in workshops at the V&A Museum of Childhood in Bethnal Green.

Between Monday, May 25, until Friday, May 29, artist Miriam Baez will be running Mad Hatter's hat making sessions (10.30am, 11.45am, 2pm, 3.15pm, £5) and printmakers will be offering the chance for visitors to design and print their own playing card (11.15am, 12.30pm, 2.30pm, 3.45pm, £5), helping the museum to create an entire Alice-inspired deck.

Storytelling, dressing up and craft activities for all ages will take place daily between 11am and 4pm. Workshops are suitable for accompanied children aged from five to 12.

Eating out, eating in

You can bank on Blixen

BY GORDON BLUE

AS soon as we enter the sumptuous Blixen, we already know we're in for a treat.

A hedonistic mix of copper, glass and silver nestles next to a more organic aestheticism provided by topiary, natural woods and light.

We are seated in a new extension to the original building (a bank for many years).

Attention to detail is everywhere and service is impeccable from the word go, with free-flowing water and helpful explanations of some of the sophisticated menu wording.

I kicked things off with a lip-smacking herbal cocktail (medicinal n'est pas?) while the Silver Fox settled in with a meaty red.

To start I had the chorizo and squid casserole. The squid was unctuous and avoided the schoolboy error of being chewy, bathed in the cumin-spiked juices of the chorizo. Heavenly.

The Silver Fox enjoyed the velvety smoothness of the celeriac soup made, I swear, with the cordon bleu method of boiling the celeriac in double cream and then blitzing. We'll

This former bank building is now home to a top-notch restaurant prepare our beach bodies another day.

My rigatoni with broad beans and garden peas was lifted with lemon zest and provided the perfect lighter main.

Meanwhile, the salmon was perfectly cooked with sauce so exhilarating that the Silver Fox asked for a teaspoon (which was delivered without question, more excellent service).

Desserts of affogato (a twist on the vanilla ice cream with espresso coffee, this time made with brownie ice-cream, oh yes) and a blood orange and chocolate rum cremeux (as delicious and calorific as it sounds, twinned with hazelnut ice-cream) were the perfect finish to a perfect meal.

The interiors are something special here and, frankly, I could move in to the loos alone. They also have a luxurious dining room where the old safe used to be and it would be a rather special spot for a party.

Two ate three courses with wine for just over £90, including water and service.

As Arnie would say, I'll be back.

Blixen is at 65a Brushfield Street, E1. Tel: 7101 0093.

Food for foragers

RAMSONS? Ever heard of them? No? Well neither had I... until now.

This month our recipe is a shared project with Tower Hamlets Cemetery Park which, just around now, is awash with a twinkling carpet of ramsons.

The ramson, which is excellent foraging food, is an unspeakably pretty plant and the air around it smells of soft, nutty garlic.

This recipe uses three different parts of the plant in different ways and the ingredients for this meal will cost you about 50p. Enjoy!

Ramson pancake – serves 2

Ingredients

3/4 cup of gram (chickpea) flour
3/4 cup of cold water
Quarter tsp each of salt, pepper and smoked paprika
A handful of thinly sliced

closed-cup mushrooms
1 tbsp finely grated Parmesan cheese
One bunch of ramsons – flower clusters, stalks and leaves – washed in cold water

Method

1. Mix together the flour, water and spices, whisking until there are no lumps. The consistency should be like single cream and bubbly. Set this aside to prepare the ramsons.

2. Snip the individual white, star-like flowers off the head of the stalk. Chop the stalks into 1cm lengths. Bunch and cut the leaves widthways in 2cm strips.
3. Cook the leaves in enough water to cover the bottom of a saucepan. Cook until they are deep green and set aside.

4. Sprinkle the flowers on to a dry, hot frying pan and toast until they show signs of shrivelling.

Pop them onto a cool plate.
5. Brush a non-stick frying pan with rapeseed oil, toss in sliced mushrooms and wriggle them around until they brown on one side. Add the chopped ramson stalks.

6. Pour in half the pancake mix to cover the base. Allow to cook until the mixture loses translucence. Turn the pancake over and cook the other side.
7. Put on a plate, spread the softened green leaves on half of the pancake, sprinkle with parmesan and fold in half. Sprinkle with the toasty flowers.

A NEW vertical garden has been installed on the Leopold Estate in Poplar and Bow.

The living wall is full of flowering and edible plants and was created with the help of residents, who will also help to care for it.

Volunteer group the Friends of Tower Hamlets Cemetery Park helped develop the garden in partnership with social housing landlord Poplar HARCA.

Project manager Francesca Colloca, of Poplar HARCA, said: "The site has been unused for years so it's fantastic that the Friends of Tower Hamlets Cemetery Park have developed such a novel way to brighten up the area."

Tess Pettinger, from the Friends, said: "We are excited to have brought to life an inspirational green project in a totally unassuming place."

A bulging bin? QR it!

BY STEFAN SWIFT

RESIDENTS are being asked to help keep bins from overflowing across the borough.

All public bins in Tower Hamlets have now been fitted with a QR (quick response) code sticker so that members of the public can report overflowing bins.

Overstuffed bins can encourage further dumping of waste around the bin, which results in the streets looking untidy and full of litter.

Residents can download a QR code scanner for free from their app store – once an overstuffed Tower Hamlets bin code is scanned, this will automatically draft a text message on the user's smartphone.

This text message can then be sent for free by residents directly to the council's waste contractors.

Contractors are then able to pinpoint the exact location on a map and empty the offending bin within two hours.

For those who do not have a smartphone, there is a reference number on each bin which residents and visitors can text to 80800 free of charge.

In the past, residents would call the council's customer contact centre who would then pass the message on to contractors.

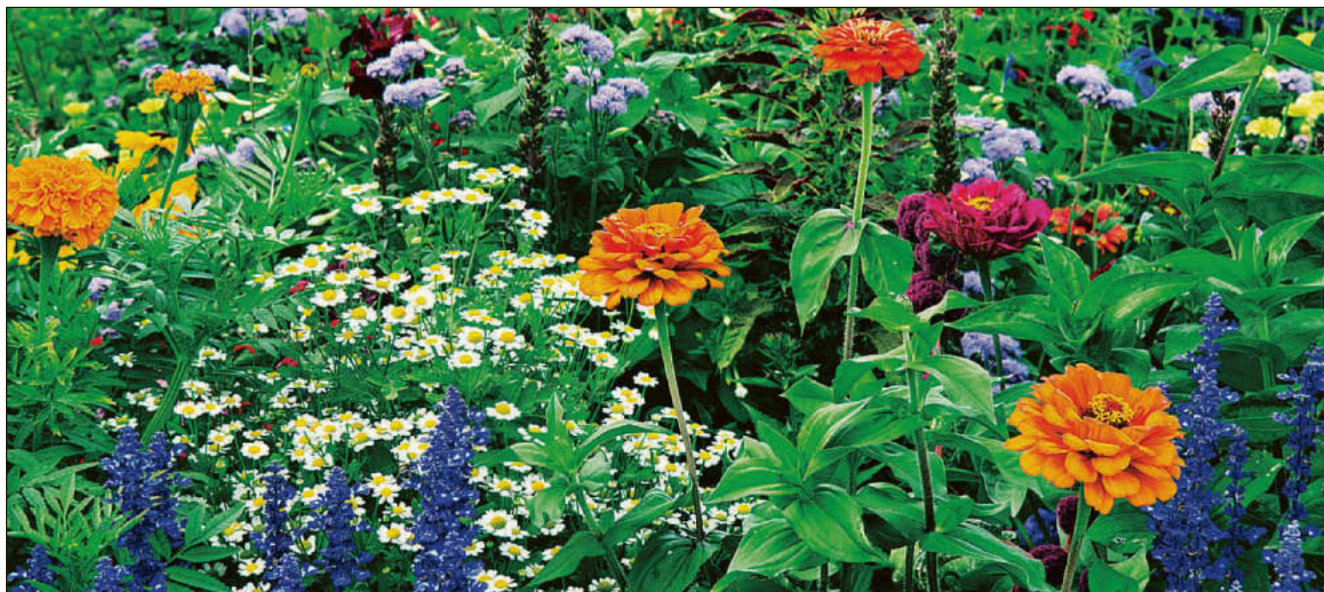

The time from someone reporting an overflowing bin to it being emptied has now reduced dramatically.

With limited resources available, the council wants to encourage residents to help ensure litter bins are emptied when needed.

QR code technology was implemented in February 2014, and the council has so far had a total of 646 requests from the public to empty litter bins.

This has resulted in direct savings of £2,151 as the requests have been going directly from residents to the contractor.

Installing QR code stickers has resulted in bins being emptied more quickly.

Go green with garden giveaway

RESIDENTS are being encouraged to brighten up their homes and communities by creating a colourful flower display this summer.

Whether it's a huge garden with rolling lawns and statement flower displays, an urban garden or patio, or a hanging basket or window box, National Garden Gift Vouchers let people create their very own green haven.

Make a stunning outdoor area to enjoy this summer by choosing some new containers, refreshing flower beds or investing in new garden furniture.

National Garden Gift Vouchers give green-fingered residents the freedom to choose the plants and accessories they really want.

They can be bought and redeemed at more than 2,000 retail outlets around the UK, including garden centres such as Dobbies, Hilliers, Notcutts, Squire's and Homebase, and hundreds of independent garden nurseries.

Visit www.thevoucher-garden.co.uk for an easy-to-use store locator or to buy online.

East End Life has four National Garden Gift Vouchers worth £25 each to give away. To enter a prize draw for a voucher, email your full name, phone number, address and email address to eastendlife.news@towerhamlets.gov.uk, putting 'gardening voucher draw' in the subject line.

Alternatively, post your entry on a postcard to Gardening Voucher Draw, East End Life, the Town Hall, Mulberry Place, 5 Clove Crescent, London E14 2BG.

Only one entry per household will be entered in the draw. Other competition rules apply.

The closing date for competition entries is Friday, May 29.

The logo for Tower Hamlets Home Seekers is located at the top of the page. It features a stylized silhouette of a city skyline in dark blue. The words "tower hamlets" are written in a small, white, sans-serif font above the skyline. Below the skyline, the word "homeseekers" is written in a large, bold, white, sans-serif font. The entire logo is set against a background of horizontal stripes in shades of blue and white.

Find out about local schools, council services, transport links, and businesses at: www.upmystreet.com

You can bid for these homes only if you have an active application on the Tower Hamlets Housing List. Please do not visit any of them as it may cause a nuisance to neighbours.

We can only contact people we make offers to. Offers are made in priority order based on the lettings policy. A copy of the policy is available from us on 020 7364 2826 or on the website.

About the East London Mosque Trust (ELMT)

The East London Mosque is London's oldest Mosque, serving the UK's largest Muslim community. In 2004 its facilities were greatly expanded with the addition of the London Muslim Centre, which has hosted a wide range of ground-breaking services. The latest expansion, the Maryam Centre, opened in 2013 adding further prayer space, a Visitor Centre, and substantial facilities for women.

Our mission is to serve, educate and inspire.

Our vision is to see a world of God consciousness, respect, dignity and justice.

Support Workers (Substance Misuse, Homeless/Complex Needs)
£21,000 per annum | 40 hours per week (including some evenings & weekends) | London E1 & E2

We are looking for exceptional people who can support our residents at two services in Tower Hamlets. Our Recovery Hub enables residents to recover and move on from homelessness and/or alcohol and drug dependency issues, within a personalised and psychologically informed environment. Our project in Brick Lane houses people who are homeless with a range of support needs including substance misuse issues and complex needs. By focussing on their strengths and potential, and providing support including education and training, we help them to move into more independent accommodation.

Support Workers (Young Persons’ Support Service)
£21,000 per annum | 40 hours per week (including some evenings & weekends) | London E2

We support young people who have been homeless or within the care system to move forward with their lives and develop the skills they need to move onto independent accommodation.

Part-time Senior Support Worker
£21,250 per annum for 34 hours per week
Split role 14 hours per week, based in EC1 and 20 hours per week | London E2

We currently have opportunities in two of our supported housing services based in EC1 and E2 for Senior Support Workers. Our supported housing projects house former rough sleepers and people with on-going substance misuse issues. The roles will include liaising with agencies and key stakeholders and providing supervision and support to staff.

Part-time Transitions Worker (Young Persons’ Support Service)
£12,000 per annum | 20 hours per week (including some evenings & weekends) | London E2

You will be an experienced practitioner and work within a small team to ensure that we deliver a high quality support service and a safe environment for our residents.

Night Support Workers
£19,032 per annum | 40 hours per week | London E2

To join the night team working in our Recovery Hub service where we aim to support people who have a current dependency on drugs or alcohol and motivate them to move towards recovery.

Night Support Workers (Young Persons’ Support Service)
£19,032 per annum for 40 hours per week | £9,516 per annum for 20 hours per week | London E2

You will offer a support service to our young people ensuring that the building is safe and secure. In addition, you will be able to manage difficult situations in a calm and professional manner.

Locum Support workers
£9.15 - £10.00 per hour (as and when required basis)

We have vacancies on our locum bank for people who have relevant experience/skills to work in our support services and are available for temporary/part-time work.

For further details please visit www.prha.net
Closing date: 5pm on Monday, 1st June 2015.

We value diversity and are committed to fairness and equal opportunities in all our services and for our staff.

Enhanced DBS checks apply. PRHA is a charitable housing association.
HCA No: L0695. Industrial & Provident Society No: 19322R.

Morpeth claim another second

BY PETER FAULKNER

MORPETH School's under-16 table tennis players have once again shown their talent on the national stage.

For the fourth successive year they finished runners-up in the national finals at Hinckley in Leicestershire – an event where only the top four teams in the country compete.

The team of Jamie Dignum, Rijul Roychoudhury, Anthony Lynch and Murhad Hussain came second behind London Academy, who have won the title for the last three years.

Captain Dignum led from the front with a first victory of the finals against Academy.

In a fierce battle with England number 4 cadet Erin Gozcu, Dignum lost the first set, fought back to 1-1 then edged 2-1 ahead.

Gozcu responded brilliantly to quickly secure the fourth set before Dignum's strong finish produced a 3-2 victory.

Morpeth's number two Roychoudhury played extremely well to win his first match 3-1, to level the overall score at two matches apiece.

Morpeth's players receive their trophies

Unfortunately, from that point onwards, London Academy went through the gears and won the remaining four matches to take the title by a 6-2 margin.

Morpeth head coach Simon Hoang was proud of his players.

He said: "They have all been training up to 16 hours a week, excluding weekend tournaments. This is alongside their GCSE exam preparations.

"Qualifying for the fourth year in a row is a great achievement and finishing runners-up for the fourth successive year is a demonstration of consistency."

Lions falter as Eagles finish clean sweep

Basketball

Newcastle Eagles 96
London Lions 84

LONDON Lions entered the O2 Arena with high hopes, but their British Basketball play-offs dream was scuppered by the dominant force in the domestic game.

Eagles underlined their status by completing a second trophy clean sweep in four years. The victory over Lions added to the league title, the BBL Cup and the BBL Trophy.

And that was probably hard to swallow for Great Britain captain Drew Sullivan, who enjoyed so many great days at Newcastle before coming to the capital.

Eagles rode out a hot start from the Lions, spurred on by a crowd of 14,700, to seize control with an excellent all-round display capped by 23 points, nine assists and six rebounds from Rahmon Fletcher.

Sullivan led Vince Macaulay's men with a game-high 27 points, but it was not enough to deny the all-conquering Eagles, who overwhelmed Lions with superior efficiency and control.

The teams began the second period tied at 24-all, but as Sullivan's hot hand cooled down, league MVP Smith once again demonstrated why he is the man for the big occasion.

The 39-year-old connected from all over the floor and as his teammates turned up the defensive pressure, Eagles were able to take control.

This pattern continued in the early stages of the second half, and Eagles tightened their grip.

The influence of Zaire Taylor, most valuable player in the 2014 final, was limited.

The game began to get away from Lions and Newcastle opened up a 74-55 advantage.

Lions needed Taylor to be a catalyst for the comeback, and he scored the first six points of the final period, but Eagles never appeared in danger of relinquishing their lead.

Volleyball girls answer London calling

Volleyball

THREE students from Bow's Central Foundation School competed for London in Volleyball England's inter-regional competition.

Nicolle Romney, Tasnim Mishu and Noelle Guenem had mixed fortunes in the event at the University of East London's SportsDock venue.

Supported by Tower Hamlets Youth Sport Foundation, Nicolle and Tasnim were in action in the under-14B league while Noelle played in the A league.

The A team had a strong first day, winning all their games 2-0. But the second day proved a lot tougher for Noelle and company as they lost their final three games to finish fourth out of seven teams. Nicolle and Tasnim fared much better with the London B team.

They played four games on the first day, winning two and losing two.

The first game on the second day proved to be a turning point, with a 2-1 victory over East Midlands sealing a fourth place finish and a spot in the semi-finals.

The girls were now on a roll but faced a second clash against West Midlands – who had beaten them 2-0 in the group stages.

This did not deter the girls who put in a fine performance narrowly winning 25-23, 26-24 to set up a final against the East region.

The best of three sets game was a very close affair. A very strong East team just took the first set 29-27 only for London to come back strongly and take the second set 26-24.

The deciding set was a back and forth affair with neither team able to get a strong hold of the game.

Strong serving by the London team in the end was just about enough to take the set 15-13 and claim victory over their regional neighbours by 2-1.

Kids march on for Repton

BY PETER FAULKNER

TWENTY Repton boxers have reached the quarter-finals of the English Schools Boxing Championships.

The Bethnal Green club had 21 starters at Swindon on May 10 and their last boxer in the ring, last year's schools champion Joseph Smith, was the only loser, dropping a split decision to Danny Edwards (Sweat Box).

For ten of the others it was an easy route into the next stage because they all got walkovers. They were: Nathan Harris, Levi Lee, Harvey Smith, George Mitchell, Jack Oliphant, Adam Mohammed, Patrick Connors, Dennis McCann, Charlie Hickford and Levin Deighton.

Of the rest, there were impressive performances from Calum Eastwood, Roberto Lacourt and David Tierney – all winning inside the distance.

Eastwood halted Alan Nash (Portland) in one round and Lacourt also enjoyed a first-round success over Lee Penfold (Ferndown).

Tierney took a round longer to stop Steve Firk (Chard). The remaining eight all won points.

George Ellis outpointed Laurie Scott-Brown (Walcott), Joe King beat Mick Glover (Trowbridge), Barney Docherty outscored Tommy Kelly (Frome), Fred Moss defeated Danny Thomas (Bodmin), Vincent Driscoll beat Lee Roberts (Bodmin), Rowan Durero beat Barry Smith (Trowbridge) and John Inman outscored Terry Weekes (Sturminster).

■ Christian Mbwakonog, a PE student at the University of East London, is hoping he can be part of TeamGB at next year's Rio Olympics.

The young welterweight floored Irish Olympian Adam Nolan in the Gee Bee championships in Finland, only for Nolan to make a final-round recovery and get the verdict.

Christian was competing for Britain, following his gold in the British Universities and Colleges Sport championships.

■ Charlie Edwards, a former Repton flyweight, now trained by Johnny Eames of Bow, bids for a hat-trick of wins against a selected opponent at York Hall, Bethnal Green, on May 28.

Edwards, double national title holder with Repton, has made an impressive start to his professional career, stopping both Craig Derbyshire and Mikhael Soloninkini.

■ Frank Buglioni successfully defended his European super-middleweight title at Wembley and stretched his unbeaten record to 16.

But he didn't win this title defence against Lee Markham of Essex – it ended in a draw.

The judges scorecards were undecided – 96-94 to Buglioni, 96-94 to Markham and 95-95.

■ Heavyweight Raphael Zumbano Love was outclassed by Anthony Joshua at Birmingham's Barclaycard Arena.

Joshua made it 12 knockouts from 12 fights after 81 seconds of round two.

Love is managed by Mick Helliatt, owner of the Limehouse Elite Fitness Centre.

HORN HOPES: Repton's Harvey Horn (pictured above) is aiming to qualify for the world boxing championships this winter by capturing a medal at the European Games in Baku, Azerbaijan, from June 12-28.

Horn has been chosen as one of the nine man team for this inaugural championships which is seen as a pathway to Olympic qualification in Rio next year. Horn also hopes to qualify for the Qatar world championships in October.

A blessing in disguise

"It was disappointing to drop off after the two years, but it's been a blessing in disguise as I've had a year to improve my game further and also had this opportunity to win the under-21 title."

Sean storms back to pro ranks

BY PETER FAULKNER

STEPNEY Green snooker ace Sean O'Sullivan lost his place on the professional circuit – and then found his form.

After two seasons, 21-year-old was relegated by snooker's hierarchy, but has now bounced back to win his first title – and another two year tour card.

O'Sullivan, known as The Storm, capped his enforced season in the unpaid ranks by grabbing his last chance to claim the English Under-21 Championship.

Trailing 2-0 to defending champion Ashley Carty from Rotherham, O'Sullivan responded with a run of eight frames out of the next nine to win 8-3 at Longton Snooker Club, Stoke.

The turning point came when EASB Premier Junior Tour leader Carty was 2-0 up and 40-odd points in front in the third frame. With three reds left, O'Sullivan cleared the table.

"Life on the main tour was a brilliant experience," said

Sean O'Sullivan is back at the top level of the game after winning the English Under-21 Championship

O'Sullivan. "It was disappointing to drop off after the two years, but it's been a blessing in disguise as I've had a year to improve my game further and also had this opportunity to win the under-21 title.

"It was a great win for me. I put myself under lots of pressure to win, just simply because it was my last chance to win an EASB junior championship.

"I've been slogging it out trying to win one since the under-13s, but usually kept coming up against eventual winners."

O'Sullivan added that it was even more special because it was his first final and members of his family and sponsor Mick Cox, from Aldgate's Still & Star pub, were in the audience.

Last August, O'Sullivan had a taste of things to come when he reached the quarter-finals of the first European tour event in Latvia. He won through two amateur rounds and then beat Jamie Burnett 4-1, Mark Joyce 4-3, Jak Jones 4-3 and Mark Davis 4-2 before going out 4-0 to Mark Allen.

Wapping enjoy the first day of summer

Deirdre Joyce was in fine form

Wapping ladies A 2 Brentwood Ladies 0

WAPPING Hockey Club began their summer league campaign by chalking up a hat-trick of victories – two for the ladies and one for the men.

The ladies A side started their campaign against Brentwood and, even though Wapping dominated throughout, it was still 0-0 at half-time, thanks largely to the visitors' goalkeeper.

After the break, Wapping continued to press high up the field, and their persistence eventually paid off.

Ella van den Brink fired in a great shot to open the scoring and Jade Edwards, under pressure from two defenders, kept her cool to double the lead.

Wapping ladies B 4 Redbridge & Ilford 0

THE ladies' B team enjoyed a comfortable victory.

The line-up featured a number of new faces, but the team quickly gelled despite strongly gusting winds.

Wapping's Deirdre Joyce had a stellar game up front on her return from injury.

Alongside Wapping newcomer Georgi Stocks, who joined the club via their Back To Hockey programme, she played a major part in the club establishing a 2-0 lead at half-time.

After the break, Lou Murphy got on the end of a Joyce cross shot and swept home to make it 3-0.

Wapping remained hungry for more goals and continued to pressure the Redbridge defence.

And they won a penalty flick in the last quarter of the match which Joyce duly buried.

Wapping men B 2 Waltham Forest A 0

WAPPING men's B side – the higher of the club's two teams in the Redbridge Summer League – kicked off their proceedings against Waltham Forest.

Waltham Forest were well-drilled and only a couple of fine saves from Dan Metcalfe prevented them from taking an early lead. The deadlock was finally broken on the stroke of half-time – and it was Wapping who scored.

Ben Bradish was left with room in the D and forced the goalkeeper into a reflex double save, but the rebound fell kindly for David van Stolk who made no mistake.

The game was nearing a close when Graham Spiiby picked up the ball in mid-field, beat two players and sent a beautiful cross-field pass into the path of Phil Beer, who rounded the keeper and slotted home Wapping's second.

Wapping men A 1 Croxtyx 4

WAPPING had their work cut out against a strong side including players who competed in the Summer League Premier A division last year.

Wapping started well, but towards the end of the first half, the visitors scored twice in quick succession.

Nick Summers reduced the deficit before Croxtyx scored twice more.

Seaside trip ends with defeat

Catholic United 2 FC Hamlets POAPC 1

FC HAMLETS may have lost, but they achieved their target for the season – promotion to Division Two of the Essex Olympian League.

Catholic United had already won the Division Three title so this game at Westcliff was about nothing more than pride.

Hamlets started brightly and got their reward in the 25th minute when, from the corner, the ball eventually found defender Baudrier who stabbed home.

The second half started with both teams creating chances but Catholic were handed a telling advantage in the 60th minute when Baudrier was sent off.

Within ten minutes of the red card, Catholic levelled.

But Hamlets were in no mood to lie down and substitute With came close to restoring their advantage when he rounded the keeper, only to see his shot cleared by a covering defender.

With minutes remaining, Catholic broke down the left and the winger crossed into the box.

The first shot was pushed on to a post by Pyne, only for the resulting rebound to hit the Catholic player and go in.

Uddin is boss

SPORTING Bengal United have appointed Anwar Uddin as their new manager.

Sporting hope Uddin's experience in the professional ranks will make him the man to change their fortunes in the Essex Senior League, where they finished bottom this season.

Uddin, 33, won the FA Youth Cup with West Ham in 1999.

He was the first Bangladeshi footballer to play in the Football League – Bristol Rovers – and joined Daggers in 2004, going on to become captain and making 188 appearances for the club.

Uddin takes over in the hot seat from Mamun Chowdhury, who managed Sporting for six years.

The unknown warrior

Greg Wootton against Petchboonchu Borblaboonchu

Muay Thai fighter may not be a household name, but is in the form of his life

BY PETER FAULKNER

BETHNAL Green's Greg Wootton is not a household name. He doesn't command the salary of a Premiership footballer.

Nor does he have the box office appeal of someone like Floyd Mayweather Jr.

But in his chosen sport, the warrior nicknamed the Prodigy is regarded as something of a superstar.

Welcome to the world of Muay Thai, where fighters unknown to the general sporting public are legends to those in the know.

Super-lightweight Wootton, 24, fighting out of Bill Judd's KO gym in Bethnal Green, is a double world champion and pulled off a stunning upset last time out when he defeated the legendary Petchboonchu Borblaboonchu, from Thailand.

Petchboonchu is regarded as the king of the ring having won a record 14 titles since the age of 14 and taken part in an incredible 328 fights. But last November, Wootton defeated the Thai superstar.

He was not seen as a threat, but the east Londoner became an overnight hero and the victory was hailed as one of the best ever by a British fighter.

Wootton, ranked number one in Great Britain and 19th in Europe, is now getting on with building his reputation by fighting on The Main Event bill in Birmingham's Barclaycard Arena this Saturday, May 23.

Wootton faces another Thai warrior, Sasiprapa Rungrat, who, at the age of 19, already has more than 80 fights under his belt and is tipped as one of his country's next superstars.

Wootton, holder of the World

Muay Thai Council MAD title and the Enfusion world belt, has lost four of his 33 fights and following the unexpected defeat of Petchboonchu, the Bethnal Green fighter is high on confidence.

Wootton is hoping he will be another headline act after this and there will be 13,000 screaming martial arts fans there to help him achieve it.
